Do swatches make you sweat? Do color wheels make you dizzy? Does your pulse race while watching HGTV's Love It or List It? You are NOT alone! Come get your design fix for spring at our upcoming April FWC meeting hosted by Foxboro's own designing woman, mom and entrepreneur Lori Paranjape at her home at 822 Coxboro on Tuesday, April 8th at 7:00pm. Lori will tell us more about her uber chic Franklin retail store and some of her favorite projects, give us a tour of her amazing home (her favorite project, perhaps!), and share some upcoming trends for spring. And as always, fellowship, some tasty snacks and refreshments are on tap.

A big thank you to our host and painting instructor extraordinaire, Kianush Dixon, who helped us all feel artistic last month during our March Art Scrawl. A good time was had by all who attended – this will likely become an annual event, so don't miss it next time! Check out a few photos from the meeting below.

Then in May, we will gather poolside at the home of Ginny Lund at 9258 Hunterboro Drive for brainstorming, planning, and organizing next year's activities. We need new meeting ideas, and we would love to have new neighbors attend and get to know you. If you are interested in hosting a meeting, coordinating a meeting, or just attending a meeting, NOW is the time! Please plan to join us in April or May – we don't meet in the summer, so take advantage of this opportunity to spend a stress-free, relaxed evening with the fabulous women of Foxboro!
